Excerpt from Annual Report of the School Committee of the City of Boston, 1883, Vol. 22

The close of the year 1883 finds the public schools of Boston in a condition believed to be not inferior to that of previous years.

The evidences are to the effect that there have been a healthy progress, and even some improvement in methods and results, and in measures of financial economy.

The members of the Board of School Committee, to whom the management of such vast and comprehensive interests is intrusted, involving so many and important details, educational and financial, have just reason to claim from the citizens at large an attentive perusal of the records and documents which prove these facts, for the justification of the members of the committee as against the consequences of misinformation, and for the sake of better intelligence in the community regarding the system and its administration, - the conduct, operations, and fruits of which must necessarily produce an impress and educational effect and tone in the minds and characters of so large a body of pupils, every year changing and increasing, - who it is natural to suppose will form the principal portion of our future body-politic.
