Homeschooled Joshua Lynn

As summer begins to set in 2001, a fifteen-year-old boy dwelling in the suburbs of Detroit, Michigan prepares himself for one of the greatest adventures ever to be had in Midwestern America. Having spent the past five years being educated within the confines of his very own home, Josh Lynn is about to break out of his sheltered little world and embark upon an epic quest filled with humor, romance, terror, and heartache. What awaits this wide-eyed, post-homeschooled lad is the unknown and precarious realm of public high school.

In his revealing memoir, Lynn provides a rare and fascinating peek into the mind of a former homeschool student who trades in the comfort and familiarity of his parents' dining room table for a conventional classroom desk in the public school system of American suburbia. This trial-by-fire tale catalogues the bizarre experiences and uncanny struggles that Lynn undergoes as he puzzles his way through the ins and outs of the complex new world in which he now finds himself.
